

OOONI Explorer for Human Rights Advocates

What is OONI Explorer?

OOONI Explorer is the world's largest open dataset on Internet censorship.

Access OONI Explorer:
<https://explorer.ooni.org/>

Why use OONI Explorer?

- Rapid response:
Real-time data on emergent censorship events around the world.
- Evidence:
Confirm reported blocks with empirical data.
- Charts and Search Tool:
Explore and visualize OONI data easily.

OOONI data in advocacy

Since 2016, OONI has been a member of the #KeepItOn campaign – a global coalition of human rights organizations fighting Internet shutdowns. OONI data supports advocacy efforts worldwide.

Learn more about the #KeepItOn campaign:
<https://www.accessnow.org/keepiton/>

Founded in 2012, the Open Observatory of Network Interference (OOONI) is a non-profit free software project documenting Internet censorship around the world.

Learn more about OONI: <https://ooni.org/>

